Cincinnati Art Museum

Located in scenic Eden Park, the Cincinnati Art Museum features a diverse, encyclopedic art collection of more than 67,000 works spanning 6000 years. In addition to displaying its own broad collection, the museum also hosts several national and international traveling exhibitions each year. For more information, visit <https://www.cincinnatiartmuseum.org>.

Roebling Suspension Bridge

Stroll across our region's most iconic bridge to experience a different state of mind. This National Historic Landmark connects downtown Cincinnati and Covington, KY—providing easy access to popular attractions on both sides of the river. For more information, visit <https://roeblingbridge.org>.

Cincinnati Zoo and Botanical Garden

This second-oldest zoo in the United States and considered one of the best in the country, the Cincinnati Zoo is most renowned for its endangered species and birthing programs—particularly for gorillas and white tigers—and has a wonderful collection of felines and a delightful manatees exhibit. For more information, visit <http://cincinnatiartmuseum.org>.

American Sign Museum

With 20,000 ft² of American signage that spans over a century, the American Sign Museum is one that covers it all. The museum offers guided tours or you can explore the museum on your own. For more information, visit <https://www.americansignmuseum.org>.

Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame and Museum

The Reds Hall of Fame, which opened in 2004, is an interactive, historical museum dedicated to recognizing and celebrating Cincinnati Reds baseball. For more information, visit <http://cincinnati.reds.mlb.com/cin/hof>.

Newport Aquarium

Visitors are able to meet the thousands of animals from around the world that inhabit a million gallons of water at the Newport Aquarium. The aquarium has the first shark ray breeding program in the world and was named the number-one aquarium in the 2012 Readers' Choice Travel Awards from 10Best.com. For more information, visit <https://www.newportaquarium.com>.

Cathedral Basilica of the Assumption

Listed among "The Most Beautiful Churches in the World" by the National Catholic Reporter, the Cathedral Basilica of the Assumption is a beautifully ornate example of Gothic Revival architecture. For more information, visit <https://www.covcathedral.com>.

Carew Tower

Completed in 1930, Carew Tower is the second tallest building in Cincinnati; however, it is still the highest elevated building in the city. Visit the 49th-floor Observation Deck for panoramic views of the region. For more information, visit <https://www.facebook.com/carewtower?fref=ts>.

Newport Southbank Bridge

The Newport Southbank Bridge, popularly known as the Purple People Bridge, is a pedestrian-only bridge that stretches across the Ohio River connecting Newport, KY, to downtown Cincinnati and to trails along the river in both states. For more information, visit <http://purplepeoplebridge.com>.

Fountain Square

Fountain Square is in the heart of downtown Cincinnati. Located at the corner of Fifth and Vine Streets, Fountain Square is a public space where locals and visitors alike gather, celebrate, and connect. For more information, visit <https://myfountainsquare.com>.

William Howard Taft National Historic Site

A two-story Greek Revival house stands on one of Cincinnati's hilltops and is the place where William Howard Taft was born and grew up. Visit this historic site to learn about the 27th President of the United States. For more information, visit <https://www.nps.gov/wiho/index.htm>.

Cincinnati Museum Center at Union Terminal

One of Cincinnati's greatest architectural treasures, the Cincinnati Museum Center at Union Terminal is home to the Cincinnati History Museum, Duke Energy Children's Museum, Museum of Natural History & Science, and Robert D. Lindner Family OMNIMAX Theater. For more information, visit <https://www.cincymuseum.org>.
